

Webinar: Answering Parents' Questions

Title: COVID-19 Vaccination and Children: Answering Parents' Questions

Time: Wednesday, June 23 from 12-1 pm

Description:

Join us for a free webinar focused on COVID-19 communications to answer parents' questions about COVID-19 vaccination for children. As vaccination authorization and guidelines continue to evolve for children and adolescents—and as families and officials look ahead to the upcoming school year—it is imperative to use consistent, timely, and fact-based messaging to help parents and families understand these developments and make decisions. Karen Remley, MD, MBA, MPH, FAAP, Director of the National Center on Birth Defects and Developmental Disabilities at the CDC and former Executive Director and CEO of American Academy of Pediatrics and Nicole Alexander-Scott, MD, MPH, Director of the Rhode Island Department of Health will share insights and answer your questions.
